

The Publishers Association, the Centre for Publishing at University College London and EDITEUR announce the next Digital Publishing Forum.

This forum examines current issues of strategic importance to academic, educational, trade and other digital publishers through a mix of presentations and discussion sessions.

Digital Legal Issues

Speakers are Hugh Jones, PA Copyright Counsel, and Laurie Kaye, expert digital media lawyer and member of the Strategic Advisory Board for Intellectual Property Policy (SABIP)'s copyright expert group. The seminar will be introduced by Anthony Watkinson of UCL, and chaired by Alicia Wise of The Publishers Association.

Wednesday 11 November, 2009, 4 - 6pm

Anatomy Gavin de Beer Lecture Theatre, followed by Wilkins North Cloisters University College London - Gower Street - London - WC1E 6BT

Our second Autumn DPF this season will tackle digital legal issues. With the UK launch of Amazon's 'Kindle' announced this month, and a host of other mobile devices promised for next year, the era of mobile publishing has begun. Regulators in the UK, Europe and elsewhere are struggling to reconcile often conflicting views and interests of publishers, users and intermediaries as global digital publishing platforms takes their place alongside traditional publishing.

Hugh Jones and Laurie Kaye will be taking a close look at how copyright is coping under these pressures, and how it's adapting to this digital world.

There will be ample time for questions and discussion, and the seminar will be followed by drinks and an opportunity for further networking and discussion in the Wilkins North Cloisters.

The seminar fee is £46.00 for members of the Publishers Association and £92.00 for non-members.

For further information on the Digital Publishing Forum and registration details, click here.

Bookings are now being taken for Facing the Challenge of Digital Change, a DPF organised by BIC and the PA to coincide with the final day of Online. It will be held on Thursday 3 December 2009 at RIBA, London W1, from 2.30pm to 5pm. See <http://www.bic.org.uk> for more information and to register.
